LOCAL PHILATELISTS SHOULD DO WELL.

List of Some of the Fancy Prices Paid and Offered for Certain Issues of our Stamps.

Of all the queer developments that S. F. Call, have arisen in connection with the dethronement of Oveen Liliuokalani none is stranger than the excitement which Dr. H. Dharmapola of India is on the attended the speculation in the provisional stamps issued by the present Government. This speculation is not confined to stamp collectors and dealers, but is indulged in by residents of Honolulu and citizens of this and other countries alike, even one of the future profit.

It was anticipated that the Pro visional Government would be of short Besant. duration and that the improvised stamps were to have a life as short as the temporary Government, and this led to the scramble for the stamps, as it was presumed that they would become exceedingly rare and valuable.

There were tweety-one varieties is sued, including all the perforated stamps issued by the Hawaiian Government since 1864, ranging in value from 1 cent to $1. Each of these was overprinted, or surcharged to use a philatelic term, with the words, "Provisional Govt., 1893." in three lines, each word and date taking a separate

Some of the stamps were surcharged with black letters and others with red, all of one denomination being overprinted in the same color. But the portion of one value, the 12 cent mauve, was surcharged in black and the remainder in red, there being twice as many of the latter surcharged as of much as $5 each was paid for a specimen of the black surcharge. Speculaseveral of the other values, and it was queen of the ocean. not long after the date of their issue that a complete set of these stamps, which had a face value of $3 or, were selling for $15.

Recently, however, some of the speculators have deemed it wise to unload, and the entire set can now be purchased for $10, still leaving a handsome profit on the original cost.

Recent advices from Honolulu show had somewhat of a sensational effect to a friend in this city:

If such is the case the Government has a mighty good thing, Ferdinand Ward Attempts to Explain i for it can grind them out for about ten cents per thousand. I see in the windows about town samples of several kinds of stamps, priced $10.'

About two months ago the news was brought to this city from the Hawaiian capital that two complete sets of the first four stamps issued by Hawaii, viz.: the 2-cent, 5 cent and 13 cent of 1851 and the 13 cent of 1852, all blue, were found in a safe in one of the Government buildings by the officials of the Provisional Government. The excitement that this news created may be judged from the fact that the next out. hands. going steamer for Honolulu carried an offer of $500 for each set. The same mail also carried an order for all the stamps obtainable of the issues from 1859 to 1865 inclusive, known as the numerals, that could be purchased at reasonable figures, and also for certain of the Provisional issues. This letter was addressed to the Hon. Theodore C. Porter, ex Minister of Finance of the Provisional Government. His reply

While the desire to obtain the Hawaiian Provisional stamps is general among philatelists all over the world the collectors of the United States are particularly anxious to secure complete sets of them, as it is only a question of time when the land of the Kanakas will become a part of the United States and collectors usually make a specialty of the stamps of their own country.-
